ALL work produced in the Guild Workshops is executed under the highest artistic supervision, and at the same time as much freedom as possible is given to the craftsman, in order that individuality and character be retained in his handiwork.

A specialty is made of original Table Silver, and the following may be mentioned amongst the large number of articles produced in the Gold and Silversmithing department:—Chalices, Bowls (fruit and flower), Mugs, Goblets, Tankards, Challenge and Christening Cups, Soup Tureens, Entrée Dishes, Dessert Knives and Forks, Spoons, Jam and Butter Dishes, Menu Holders, Serviette Rings, Sugar Castors, Muffineers, Chafing Dishes, etc., etc.

Customers own ideas or designs will be carefully carried out, and drawings or suggestions submitted for re-modelling or re-arranging jewellery.

A large and unique variety of useful and beautiful articles, suitable for wedding or complimentary gifts, are kept in stock, and selections will be sent to customers on approval at our own risk.

The Guild Workshops and Offices at Chipping Campden, Glos.

THE GUILD OF HANDICRAFT was founded in 1888 in East London. It owed its origin to two needs—the need for the establishment of standard in craftsmanship and the need for education in the crafts. Seeing that the maintenance of good standard in craftsmanship postulates also good standard in character and the producing craftsman, the Guild has always kept before itself three objectives: (1) a fair rate of wages, (2) a co-operative system among its members, (3) good working conditions. The last of these three has been realised in the pleasant and beautiful surroundings of Chipping Campden, the Cotswold village, and the shops of the old eighteenth century silk mill where the members of the Guild now conduct their work.
